Blicher Hemmer Gadd

Being steeped in the organ trio tradition, Steve Gadd knows that sometimes all that's required is to simply play a killer groove, and that's exactly what he does on 'Well I'm Not Really Much Of A Dancer', the infectious opener on saxophonist Michael Blicher's live organ trio set. Blicher and organist Dan Hemmer are as tasteful and groovy as Gadd, who swings magnificently on 'Treme', provides a reggae/calypso lilt on 'Babylon', is perfectly understated on the brooding 'Like It Is' and solos on 'She Curves, She Curves', 'In A Little Spanish Town' and 'New Orleans'. What's not to like?
